Novotel Barossa Valley Resort

check in. chill out. the conference stops here.

if you're planning the perfect conference, chances are you've checked this list more than twice:

- accommodation     meeting rooms     team-building activities
  - guest speakers     welcoming drinks     power breakfasts     networking functions.
- oh yeah, you know how to wind them up. but can you wind them down?

there is an endota spa at the novotel barossa valley resort.

which is great news for your guests. since we believe that every stand out conference should include a good lie down. work with us, and we can work pampering into your conference agenda.

endota spa can provide conference delegates with tote bags filled with samples and mini/travel size endota organic product, treatment menus and the list goes on. For groups that spend more than $1000 on any of our packages, we will provide 50 trial size endota spa organic products for free.
